Contents Vol. 22, 1988–89

Criteria for the onset of significant concentrations of ice particles in cumulus clouds
A.L. Rangno and P.V. Hobbs (Seattle, Wash., U.S.A.) 1
The formation of hollow sea-salt particles from the evaporation of drops of seawater
R.J. Cheng, D.C. Blanchard and R.J. Cipriano (Albany, N.Y., U.S.A.) 15
Croissance de gouttelettes formées par adsorption de vapeur d'eau sur des solutions dont le constituant principal est le diméthylsulfoxide (Growth of droplets formed by water vapor on dimethylsulfoxide solutions)
H. Andriambeloma and R. Montmory (St. Martin d'Hères, France) 27
Some applications of a new, time-dependent cylinder ice accretion model
K. Szilder, E.P. Lozowski and E.M. Gates (Edmonton, Alta., Canada) 41
Application de l'hygrométrie spectrale à l'étude du bilan de vapeur d'eau atmosphérique (Spectral hygrometry applied to the study of the atmospheric water vapor budget)
M. Vergez and J. Saïssac (Toulouse, France) 61
Computing solar heating in a fog layer: a new parameterization
R. Vehil (Toulouse, France) and B. Bonnel (Villeneuve d'Ascq, France) 73
Book Review
Atmospheric Chemical Compounds. Sources, Occurrence and Bioassay, by T.E. Graedel, D.T. Hawkins and L.D. Claxton — U. Schmidt 85

In Memoriam Eliane Aggéry 87
Announcement 89
Rime density, radial forces and atmospheric electricity
C.P.R. Saunders (Manchester, Great Britain) and C.C. Zhang (Nanjing, P.R. China) 101
Discrimination of ice from water in clouds by optical remote sensing
P. Pilewskie and S. Twomey (Tucson, Ariz., U.S.A.) 113
Richardson number, vertical wind shear and storm occurrences at Kano, Nigeria
J.B. Omotosho (Akure, Nigeria) 123
An investigation of vortex rings from bursting bubbles
M.J. Iacono and D.C. Blanchard (Albany, N.Y., U.S.A.) 139
On the influence of entrainment and forced lifting on some products of a 1-D model of a Cb cloud
M. Ćurić and D. Janc (Beograd, Yugoslavia) 151
Short Communication
Principales caractéristiques de la teneur en vapeur d'eau au-dessus de la couche limite planétaire (Main characteristics of the atmospheric water vapour content above the boundary layer)
M. Vergez Bagnères-de-Bigorre, France) 171
Book Review
Das Phänomen des Polarlichts, by Wilfried Schröder — D. Henning 181

In Memoriam Walter F. Hitschfeld (1922–1986) 183
Meeting Review 185
Announcements 187
Atmospheric structure generated by entrainment into clouds
J.W. Telford and T.S. Keck (Reno, Nev., U.S.A.) 191
Tortuosity of lightning
R.D. Hill (Santa Barbara, Calif., U.S.A.) 217

A postulate of electric multipoles in growing ice crystals: their role in the formation of ice crystal aggregates
W.G. Finnegan and R.L. Pitter (Reno, Nev., U.S.A.) 235
Landes-Fronts 84: Analyse granulométrique au sol d'une averse de pluie convective (Ground measurements of raindrop spectra during a convective shower)
G. Donnadieu (Clermont-Ferrand, France) 251
An empirical method to evaluate the height of the convective boundary layer by using small mast measurements
R. San José and J. Casanova (Valladolid, Spain) 265
Short Communication
Ball lightning photographed?
A. Hermant and P. Hubert (Gif-sur-Yvette, France) 275
Book Review
The Atmosphere — A Wall Chart, by K. Foley — J. Dessens 281

Other Publications Received 283
Diurnal variation of air temperature across the North Pacific
K.E. Kenyon (Del Mar, Calif., U.S.A.) 285
Chemical composition of acid rain in the north of Spain: the EPOCA program
H. Casado, A. Ezcurra, N. Durana, J.L. Albala, C. Garcia, I. Ureta (Vitoria, Spain), J.P. Lacaux and Pham Van Dinh (Lannemezan, France) 297
Numerical simulation of raindrop spectra: effects of vertical differential advection of raindrops
M.-N. Le Cam and H. Isaka (Aubière, France) 307
The relative importance of major aqueous sulfate formation reactions in the atmosphere
D.A. Hegg (Seattle, Wash., U.S.A.) 323
Conditions de reproductibilité du développement des anneaux de Liesegang produits par un aérosol de chlorure de sodium, I. Procédure expérimentale et aspects qualitatifs (Conditions for reproducing the development of the Liesegang rings produced by a sodium choride aerosol, I. Experimental procedure and qualitative aspects)
R. Gérard, A. Viallard (Aubière, France) et R. Serpolay (Clermont-Ferrand, France) 335
Conditions de reproductibilité du développement des anneaux de Liesegang produits par un aérosol de chlorure de sodium, II. Recherche de corrélations (Conditions for reproducing the development of the Liesegang rings produced by a sodium chloride aerosol, II. Investigation of correlations)
R. Gérard, A. Viallard (Aubière, France) et R. Serpolay (Clermont-Ferrand, France) 351
A radar study of severe thunderstorms around Delhi, northern India, during the monsoon season
R.N. Chatterjee and Pram Prakash (Pune India) 373
Announcement 385
